SECTION II TRANSACTIONS PERFORMED BY THE DEPOSITORY

Article 5 Acceptance for servicing and termination of servicing of an issue of securities by the Depository.

The Issue Questionnaire shall contain information which is sufficient for the arrangement of depository accounting of securities of this issue. Depository accounting of securities may not be maintained without filling-in the Issue Questionnaire for such issue. Issue Questionnaires may be kept in electronic form. The details of an Issue Questionnaire are determined by the Depository.

5.2. Issue Questionnaire shall be filled-in by the Depository in advance or upon the first acceptance of securities of this issue for accounting. The date of acceptance of securities of this issue for servicing shall be the date of filling-in the Issue Questionnaire for this issue. In the event that an issue of securities is accepted for servicing by the Depository immediately at the first acceptance of securities for depository accounting, the document initiating the filling-in of the Issue Questionnaire shall be a notice of crediting / debiting of securities to the Depository's account. For the purposes of conducting depository accounting, one security (one piece) should be considered the minimum nominal value of circulating securities of the given issue, unless otherwise specified by the terms of the issue and circulation of securities. For securities, the terms of issue of which provide for the issue of securities of different denominations, one piece is considered to be the lowest denomination of securities of such issue. Foreign financial instruments qualified as securities in accordance with the applicable laws may be accounted in units in which they are accounted on the account of a person acting in the interests of other persons opened with the Depository. The Depository shall account fractional parts of securities in accordance with the applicable laws. Within the framework of a depo account, the Depository independently and without restrictions determines the number of sections of each type, as well as additional types of sections.

The Depositor is not entitled to use the nominee holder's depo account opened with the Depository for transactions with securities that are held by the Depositor on the basis of the ownership right or another interest.

A foreign nominee holder of securities shall exercise the rights under securities only if it receives the appropriate authority.

7.11. The Foreign Authorized Holder's Depo Account is opened to a foreign organization, in cases prescribed by the applicable laws, that acts in the interests of other persons, if such organization, in accordance with its personal laws, is entitled, not being the owner of securities, to carry out on its own behalf and in the interests of other persons any legal and actual actions with securities, as well as to exercise the rights under securities.

7.12. Trading depo accounts are opened to record the rights to securities intended for and/or received as a result of civil law transactions (particularly, through a trade organizer), and which can be used to fulfill and/or secure the fulfillment of obligations for clearing.
